KHHI is always working relentlessly to bolstering its collection of mini versions and this is one of the fine additions to its small sized khukri knives that wud simply meet the standard and desire of many users. As per its name, “6 inch Jungle PLUS” is the advanced (modern) version of the traditional 6” Jungle (Sweet) that has been solidly crafted for heavy duty works by keeping the same required features in mind as a hardcore working knife. The blade is thick forged with a semi-fuller (for more strength and durability), with mirror polished finishing (to prevent rusting), fixed by a “Panawal” version handle system (Full flat tang with rivets for strength, stamina and status), having a vertical guard between the blade and handle (to always safe guard the holding hand within the handle’s portion) and with a Brown leather sheath (for smart look and strong fitting). Here special attention is made on two things; 1) Butt Cap is rounded in upper portion so that it won’t dig (stab) in palm. 2) Highly mirror polished is done (obviously we have retained the hardness) to completely prevent the blade from rusting.

6” Jungle PLUS mainly works (or is a must) for those who prefer an all rounder small size kukri knife (since it’s easier to carry and to work with) that is intended for all types of works - be it, REGULAR usage or HEAVY-DUTY works, NO PROBLEM at all.

An exclusive and excellent creation of multiple functionality crafted for all survivalists and naturalists to endure and overcome the brutality and hardship a mammal or terrain can inflict upon. KHHI unleashes one of its greatest constructions comprising various features to accomplish many different objectives in/by the same multi purposed survival knife. This 7" MultiCraft's in-built diverse executives, with accordance to its name, serve it master with a variety of tasks (usefulness) and thus truly making it THE ONE to carry at ALL TIMES.

Blade: This is the strength and stronghold of the MultiCraft's sheer power, purpose and variation. This is where a single simple looking blade reveals its true color of what it can really do and deliver. The maker here has manipulated the shape, size and edges in such a way that all basic and tactical objectives are met within or by a single blade. Front portion's (lower shoulder) shape is bulged out extensively to accomplish easy, effortless and effective swing (blow). The length of the curve is full 5 inch and thus has enough coverage against a target. Spine/edge of the lower shoulder is forged completely flat and left rough and widen a bit in order to use it as a hammer - to pound things if and when needed. This area of the blade is equally well tempered to stand beating and thumping. Spine/edge of the upper shoulder has a serrated back, having multiple sharp cuts to work relatively like to a saw for various tactical, utility and constructive purpose. Back portion (bevel) of the blade is forged straight to be used as a knife to slice and slit. It covers a full 2 inches which provide a good space/length to meet the objective. The overall length of the blade is only 7 inches which make the knife very practical and easy to use and mobile at the same time. Large elongated very sharp and steep bevel (patti) is forged to inflict deeper and greater impact with very less effort. Blade is made unpolished to keep good temper and solid cutting ability. A see through "HOLE" is also made in the blade near the guard which comes as a part of its unique style and to distinguish it from the herd. It may come handy for other reasons too that involve cutting and splitting.

Handle: Another significant and superb department of the 7" MultiCraft is its superior handle. Full flat tang riveted handle makes the knife a heavy duty operational machine. Two plates of brown Indian rosewood handles are first firmly fixed to the tang by using imported epoxy (Bondite) and later strongly secured by rivets (as shown in the picture) from both sides. A cylindrical shape is crafted to make holding easy, comfortable and useful. A steel guard fitted in the top portion / area of the handle makes the knife safe to use at all times. The guard works like a divider - separates the handle compartment from the sharp edge of the blade keeping the using hand away from danger and thus injury. A tension free and not-so-cautious state of mind is achieved from the guard and hence the user can freely and more effectively execute the knife to his wish. An extension comprising a lanyard hole and chisel in the tail section comes as a bonus to the owner or user in this "multiplicity in one" knife. The lanyard hole facility makes sure that the knife is never dropped, where as the chisel combination gives the user an extra tool in his armor which may come handy at anytime. The guard and extension are well polished for better look and to prevent rusting, where as the solid horn handle is totally unpolished to deliver better and sturdier grip.

Scabbard: Sheath of MultiCraft is another important segment that makes it effective, functional and thus very special. A special flexible leather is used for the scabbard to prevent the blade from getting scratches and to have a swifter, faster and easier draw (in and out) even when tucked in the belt. Moreover the scabbard frame is carved slightly bigger than the blade, giving more room inside in order to achieve very easy operation. A leather belt with fasten-up button is fitted in the back of throat of the scabbard to secure the khukuri firmly to the scabbard. Similarly a shoe lace as shown in the picture is fitted in the frog to tie the khukuri's handle to prevent it from wobbling while the user is moving carrying the knife in his belt. The lace would give him easy carriage and better movement. A lanyard loop is also kept in the tip of the scabbard to ease carriage and thus motion - where the user can fit a string and tie the scabbard to his thigh.

MultiCraft (Jungle Man), a multi functional performer and deliver, a versatile tool, is an all rounder that cuts, chops, saws, carves, pounds, splits, slices, scores, scrapes, hammers, stabs, digs, cleans; you name it...

[Please be notified that due to severe scarcity of HORN in the market, its constant rising price and now it being banned by the Indian Govt. we are compelled to replace the horn handle of this khukuri/knife by Brown Indian Rosewood handle, unlike as shown in the photo with effective from 26th May 2013 onwards only]

It has also been launched as a BUDGET kukri for those who seek for a real deal – Real Steel @ Rare Price – where we believe buying should not be an issue even for the strugglers. As per its name the full flat tang is wrapped by a paracord (made in USA, military standard) using a special wrapping technique developed by KHHI. The paracord is securely wrapped in such a fashion that the user feels very easy and safe to hold the knife. The shape, size, contours and design itself of the handle also make holding safer, much easier and more effective. The sharp edge is honed to make it super sharp and strong using a special manual honing technique where various grit sandpapers are used to accomplish the target (a technique developed by KHHI to enhance its superior quality). The blade is only 8 inches long designed to make it handier and unpolished to retain solid temper, and thus usefulness. The front back portion of the blade is well sharpened to use the knife for stabbing and the blade is purposely made straighter to support this action.
